Final Project

I will be building a website for my mother for the final project. She owns and operates a horse farm specializing in breeding Bashkir Curly Horses. The name of the her farm is Michigan Country Curlys. She already owns the domain name michigancurlyhorse.com and would like a nice website to show her horses off to the world and get some more business. The website will have a page for each horse and a main page. The main page will be an overview of the barn, a description of the breed, and contact information. The Horse pages will include horse pictures and updated information on each of the horses that may be for sale or up for breeding. They will also include pedigree and lineage information with links to the other horse barns across the country connected to the horses. I plan on this website to look professional and responsive with good features and minimal distracting content. I believe a clean design and layout would look the best and will try to use the barn colors of purple and white.
